February News & Updates

www.ntsgna.org

February is the month of love. For all of us in healthcare, it is important to find time for self love so we are at our best when we take care of our patients. Mental, emotional and physical self-care is part of that self love.

Let NTSGNA take the stress away of your needs for learning! All you have to do is sign up and show up to our events. Most of it offer free continuing educational hours, free delicious meals and give away. Please see schedule below. We're looking forward to seeing you! Hope you love GI as much as we do!
